

I strenuously object to the elimination of regulation on media concentration. The same company should not be able to own both a newspaper and a TV station in the same geographic area. Furthermore, the laws limiting the percent of the national audience that a single cable company can reach should not be changed. I strongly believe that further media concentration will not serve the public interest. It is critical at this time that we have a more open, diverse, and competitive environment. More expression is needed, not less.
